

Rubric for Your Interactive Assessment Assignment

Alicia

	Inadequate (0 point)	Marginal (1 point)	Excellent (2.5 points)	Points Earned	Note
Interaction	Student interacts with text material only	Some indications are shown that one type of interaction will take place.	Multiple types of interaction are included (student-to-instructor, student-to-student, student-to-content, student-to-technology, student-to-expert/guest speaker, etc.)	2.5	student-content, student-instructor, student-student, and student-technology interactions are included.
Components of Interactivity	Reading text is the only component.	Few components are given as assessment for the course.	Multiple interactivity assessments are included such as discussion forums, group projects, guest speakers, research paper critiques, peer reviews, presentations, live chat sessions, online quizzes/exams, assignments, etc.	2.5	Students are asked to work on a series of exercises - research, discussion, quiz, chat, group project, & journal.
How the interactive assessment will be delivered	No instruction given.	Some instructions are given.	Clear instructions with expected outcomes are given for every activity.	2	Clear instruction is provided. Yet, I am not 100% sure how you will create the location for "anonymous" peer critique? We could create a discussion forum that allows anonymous postings, but then we can't grade the critique if the peer also posts the critique anonymously to the forum (we won't know who did what). A walk around is that students submit critique to you via assignment and you will then return the critique to students via assignment feedback attachment.
How students will be assessed	No rubric or criteria given	Some criteria or rubric provided.	Detailed rubrics/criteria are provided.	2.5	Grading rubrics are included.
